Courageous Conversations

Sponsored by the Collegewide HCC Diversity Council

Conversation on Latinos and Immigration in Tampa Bay: Challenges and Prospects

Tuesday, November 18, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.
HCC Dale Mabry Campus, Student Services Building, Auditorium

Please be a part of the courageous conversations. It takes all facets of our community to discuss these diverse issues that impact all of us to bridge the gap and begin to make a difference.

The conversation-style seminar will be facilitated by Dr. Navita Cummings-James and Dr. Roy Kaplan.

Dr. Navita Cummings-James
Dr. James joined the faculty of the University of South Florida in 1983. Dr. James was chair of the Department of Africana Studies at USF. She also headed the Institute on Black Life there. She is now a professor in the Communications Department at USF. She has done extensive writing and research including issues related to ethnic and gender diversity, and teaching and intervention in diversity issues.

Dr. Roy Kaplan
Dr. Kaplan was the Executive Director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews for Tampa Bay for 15 years. He was an advisor to President Clinton’s race relations initiative “One America.” Currently, he is an adjunct professor at USF in the Department of Africana Studies, teaching courses on racism. His last book was “The Myth of Post-Racial America.” His new book is entitled: “Understanding Conflict and Change in a Multicultural World.”

HCC is an equal access/equal opportunity educational institution.