MPR-5-10
AA in Business Administration
AA.BUS (60 credit hours)
This degree program provides the basic foundation of general education courses and introduces the basic business concepts that are encountered in today’s demanding global business world. The credits earned in this program may be used toward earning your bachelor’s degree in business administration.

Associate in Science in Business Administration and Management
AS.BUS.MAN (64 credit hours)
This degree prepares students to assume management or supervisory positions in business, industry, and government. It provides basic skills in a broad range of business functions including accounting, information systems, management, and marketing. From starting entrepreneurial ventures to working in large corporations, an AS degree can be applied to any industry. AS degree business administration graduates may transfer into a bachelor of science program at a Florida university offering general business or business administration and management degrees (ask about the AS to BS program).
